The Evelyn H. Lauder Breast
Center of Memorial Sloan-
Kettering Cancer Center
New York, NY

Project Summary:

The major challenge for the design of the Evelyn H. Lauder Breast Center was to create a hospitable, comfortable healing environment and incorporate life affirming elements. The waiting areas, public spaces and circulation areas set patients at ease with tones of green and caramel, which are warm and soothing colors found in nature. The Masland Contract custom carpet, constructed of Antron® fiber, employs an organic inspired pattern that features a soothing color palette with a gentle falling leaf design motif.
